

Remain or Leave?

Local, national and international perspectives on the EU referendum

8 June 2016 6.00pm – 7.30pm
Pathfoot Lecture Theatre, Pathfoot Building

Join us for an exciting debate on the most topical issue in Scottish, UK and European politics: the EU Referendum. Following the launch on 18 May of the University of Stirling's Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) on the EU Referendum, we are pleased to invite you to a debate entitled "Remain or leave? Local, national and international perspectives on the EU Referendum".

Chaired by Dr Andrew Glencross, our speakers – David Coburn, Ronald Granieri and Vonnie Sandlan – will give their thoughts and perspectives on the campaign so far.

This event has been generously supported by "The UK in a Changing Europe".

Chair

Dr Andrew Glencross, Lecturer in International Politics, University of Stirling and coordinator of "Remain or Leave? A MOOC on the UK Referendum on EU Membership".

Dr Ronald Granieri, Senior Fellow of the Foreign Policy Research Institute, Philadelphia, and Director of Research at the Lauder Institute, University of Pennsylvania.

Speakers

Mr David Coburn MEP for Scotland (United Kingdom Independence Party). Member of the European Parliament's Fisheries' Committee.

Ms Vonnie Sandlan, NUS Scotland President 2015-16 and formerly NUS Scotland Women's Officer. Member of the Advisory Board of Scotland Stronger in Europe.

Registration

This event is free to attend and open to all. To book your place please register at events@stir.ac.uk